Pre-Tenure Workshop
The CTL hosted a workshop for Faculty that will be going through the Pre-Tenure process to get more acquainted with the expectations of their portfolio. Dr. Tamara Payne and Dr. James Newton were the facilitators for the workshop. They reviewed each step to making sure faculty are aware of all the necessary documents that are needed to have a good packet. Dr. Newton stated that the packet is an overview of your experience and achievements. Dr. Payne informed all attendees that it is important to stay organized and keep everything in order when putting their packets together as well as uploading everything into Sharepoint. The facilitators recently went through the pre-tenure process and were able to share their experiences with their colleagues and answer any questions they had.

CTL Blog
The CTL blog is a great way for faculty to share their professional activities with each other. Currently, faculty are invited to share their experiences in the following areas:

- Conferences or workshops recently attended
- Summary of books of interest
- On, or off-campus service activities
- Current research, grants, or publications

We look forward to reading your blog at: http://fvsu-ctl.blogspot.com

SERVICES
The CTL offers the following services to all faculty:

- Equipment Loans
- Videotaped Class Observations
- Travel Funding Assistance
- Publishing

JOURNALS
We invite you to review our resources and become a contributor to our online journal! Visit our online journal today at: http://digitalcommons.fvsu.edu/fvsu-jtls/